Work :

I like to engage myself in specific social and local contexts (elderly homes, mental hospital, social companies, farmers of a specific region). Spending time there, meeting and making friend with its people. I like to step one foot in their world, while keep being that foreigner who can look with new eyes.

I work responding to what I find there, people's desires and my own fascination.

The outcomes varies according to each situation, it is often perfomative and participative, it is always a collaboration.

Food is a tool that I often use to start or reinforce my link with the people there.

Leisure :

Next to that I love to cook, eat, danse, hike, travel, read, play badminton and listen to podcasts. But also I like to take care of groups of children and bring them into imaginary worlds where they can grow up. I have been scout leader for a while, and therefore have a BAFA (french degree for caring of children).
I can drive.
